

The Journal of the Boulder Friends of Jazz

Volume XXIX - Issue 1 - MAY 2018-JULY 2018

Note From the President:

Why should I volunteer?

Fortunately this question isn't asked as frequently as it used to be because volunteering is equated to doing good and feeling good.

People are more or less convinced that volunteering is good and that they would want to do it, if they get a chance.

Now this is "if they get a chance" more often most will ask themselves "what can I offer?" The Boulder Friends of Jazz wants to give all you the chance to volunteer and feel good about it.

As for what you can offer, we have many areas that may be of interest to you. We have activities that will have you in front of the masses, meeting people, and making friends at our many events throughout the year. If working behind the scenes is more your style, we have committees for people who enjoy planning and brainstorming, administrative positions for those who enjoy working with computers administrative positions for those who enjoy working with computers and helping to get things organized, and marketing opportunities for those who can sell ice to an Eskimo. For people who like to go places, we need delivery drivers, or help scouting new artist. Or If you want the opportunity to show everyone just how strong you are or how quickly you can set up and tear down a room, we can always utilize you before and after the events. As you can see, we have opportunities for just about everybody, and if you have a unique skill that you don't see listed, I am certain we can find the perfect spot for you that will help you fit right in. So what we are saying? Join the fun and donate your job skill to the society. Not only will you feel good about it, but also you will help to spread happiness to others for years to come. Your expertise can keep jazz alive.
